

Regarding the Consumer Bankers Associations (CBA's) challenge Indiana's Telephone Privacy law allowing telemarketing to "established business relationships", I am emphatically opposed to this challenge. I ask that you drop this challenge immediately. I as a consumer, either with companies I do or have done business with or companies that I have not done business, do not desire them disturbingly contacting me at my place of residence. This is a disruption of my personal privacy. Thank you.